October 2017

What's Going on in the LLC this Month?

Prepare for scares at your local LLC

This month your LLCs have an array of scares to choose from. First we've got dueling Gamerween events on Halloween, with tabletop gaming sessions introduced by a thematically-related talk from a faculty or staff member. Professor Tim Gilmore shares the spooky history of Jacksonville at South before a session of Betrayal at House on the Hill, and science tutor Lisa Lavado will explore some of the brain's ghoulish glitches before a session of Pandemic at Deerwood. If you think that ghosts and zombies are nothing to the vagaries of the English language, you can schedule a visit to Downtown's grammar-horror-themed escape room on October 30 or 31 as they host Grammarween. The Historian is a perfect pre-Halloween read if you like your vampires monstrous instead of sparkly. Elizabeth Kostova's novel expertly weaves globetrotting suspense and horror into the coming of age tale of a teenager unraveling the mystery of her mother's disappearance. The pleasing mix of classic vampire lore and eastern European history gave the story a satisfying gothic literary vibe, which helped me forgive the somewhat soft ending. Love it or hate it, you will not forget it.

If you think this classic story is just about creepy clowns, you are sadly mistaken! In Derry, Maine the summer break of 1958 is a living nightmare for seven outcast children on the cusp of adulthood. The truth about Derry is so terrible the "Losers Club" must reunite as adults to free their town and annihilate the evil It that lives in the sewers of Derry. Don't be intimidated by the page count, this book easily breaks up into horrifying vignettes that will keep you wanting more! When you finish you will finally be able to face... It.
